

MILAN DESIGN WEEK 2015

Brera Design District, 14-19 April

SOLLOS presents Jader Almeida

- Good News from Brazil -

The innovative Brazilian company SOLLOS is coming back at the 2015 Design Week in Milan. SOLLOS will unveil a carefully selected range of interiors designed to appeal to an international market, produced under the sophisticated art direction of JADER ALMEIDA as a natural extension of his distinctive design style.

The unique installation created by the award-winning designer and architect Jader Almeida for the event at Spazio Solferino 40, in the beating heart of the Brera Design District, will showcase around 50 pieces of furniture, lights and furnishing accessories, the fruit of diverse techniques and material that attest the excellence of SOLLOS products.

SOLLOS blends cutting-edge techniques with traditional craftsmanship while adopting eco-friendly practices to safeguard the environment, the perfect complement for Jader Almeida's recherché design that combines a timeless aesthetic with technological know-how.
